

Mark Watson

video clips

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0soVjRqrSts>

Mark first made an impact on the comedy circuit in 2002 when he won the Daily Telegraph Open Mic competition and was a runner-up in So You Think You're Funny?

He is also a novelist, with his debut 'Bullet Points', published in 2003; he has written for TV and in 2007 landed his first radio series, 'Mark Watson Makes The World Substantially Better'.

Credits

TV

- Mock The Week (BBC)
- Nevermind The Buzzcocks (BBC)
- The World Stands Up (Paramount)
- Time Trumpet (BBC)

Books

- A Light-Hearted Look At Murder
- Crap at the Environment
- Bullet Points

Radio

- Mark Watson Makes The World Substantially Better (BBC Radio 4)
- The Now Show (BBC Radio 4)

Stage:

- Can I Briefly Talk To You About The Point Of Life?'
- I'm Worried That I'm Starting to Hate Almost Everyone in the World
- 50 Years Before Death and The Awful Prospect of Eternity

Awards

Won

- 2006 if.com Eddies Panel Prize
- 2006 Time Out – Critics Choice

Nominated

- 2006 Barry Award- Best Show At Melbourne Comedy Festival
- 2006 The Times Southbank Breakthrough Award
- 2005 Perrier Newcomer Award

Current Projects

- Mark Watson 2008 Tour
- Edinburgh Fringe Festival

"Sublime talent and glorious wit." The Scotsman

"The comedic Iron Man." New York Times

"A scholar, a gentleman and a brilliant stand-up."
The Evening Standard